DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bottum (6,014,569).

Regarding claim 1, Bottum discloses a portable cellular telephone (mobile interactive radio 150), comprising a music data retrieving means which retrieves music data (user interface 170), a downloading means which downloads an application software corresponding to music data format defined in connection with the music data from a remote server (audio data provider 110, audio data storage unit 104 and real time audio data source 102) in response to a user's selection (steps 310 to step 370). See Figs. 1 and 3.

Regarding claim 2, Bottum further shows wherein the retrieving means retrieves the music data from storage a storage medium (see col. 4, lines 1-48).

Regarding claim 3, Bottom further discloses that the retrieving means retrieves the music data via communication means (see col. 5, lines 19-67).

Regarding claim 4, Bottum further discloses an application software executing means, which executes the application software in association with the music data in the cellular phone (feature of receiving audio data transmitted by a wireless system, converting that data to an analog audio signal by a converter and making audible the audio signal with an amplifier, col. 6, lines 48-60).

Regarding claim 5, Bottum shows wherein the application software executing means executes a plurality of pieces of application software in parallel simultaneously in association with the music data (see col. 7, line 62 to col. 8, line 9).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lin et al. (6,366,791) teaches a system for downloading musical ringing tones to mobile stations.

Goodman (5,594,779) teaches a mobile audio program selection method.

Boys (6,314,094) disclose a mobile wireless Internet portable radio.

Ito (6,236,832) discloses a music-related information transmission system.
